Family Bridge at a glance

Family Bridge is a stand-alone online co-parenting application for separated and divorced parents. It brings messaging, the custody calendar, pickup and drop-off exchanges, a shared expense log and the children's documents into one place, on iPhone, Android and the web. It does not provide counseling, mediation, legal advice, parenting classes or supervised visitation, and it does not process, transfer or hold money between parents.

What families get for free

- A free-forever plan, not a trial: unlimited text messaging, the custody calendar with ready-made patterns, the expense log and documents (1 child, 20 events and 10 expenses per month, and up to 3 documents; more than 3 require Pro. Sharing documents with the other parent is free on the web and comes to the iPhone and Android apps in their next update).
- Each parent has their own account. Both can use it free; responding (approving an expense, accepting an exchange) is always free.
- English, Spanish, Portuguese and French, chosen by each parent: one parent can write in English while the other reads the app in Spanish.
- Exchange requests: a parent proposes a pickup or drop-off; the other accepts, declines or counter-proposes. Delays and disputes can be reported.
- Optional Pro: a subscription each parent buys for their own account, US$5.99/month or US$39.99/year. Adds unlimited documents, PDF export, attachments, expense receipts and Family AI Helper, which reviews the tone of a message before it is sent.

What you see when a parent exports the record to PDF

From the iPhone or Android app (Pro), a parent can export a complete conversation to a US Letter PDF and share it with a mediator, attorney or the court:

- The whole conversation, not just what is on screen, in chronological order.
- Header with the topic, the child and each participant with their relationship to the child.
- Each message with sender and date; photos as thumbnails, other files by name.
- A message can be edited only within 15 minutes of sending and deleted at any time, but the export keeps the original: edited messages show the original text and every edit with its date and time, and deleted messages appear as “Deleted on [date] — original text: …”.
- If a parent deletes their account, the text of their messages is removed from the shared record, so later exports no longer include it. A parent who may need the record should export it regularly.
- General, school, messaging, financial and calendar reports can also be exported.

Privacy and data security

- We never sell or rent personal information (Privacy Policy: familybridge.app/en/privacy/).
- Conversations are visible only to their participants. Children's information is visible only to the co-parents a parent links, the caregivers a parent invites and, where granted, verified professionals.
- Sign-in with email and password, Sign in with Apple or Google; optional Face ID lock on iPhone. Users can block and report other users.
- Family Bridge staff access account data only for support, security and operations; access through our admin tools is recorded in an audit log.
- Read-only access for verified professionals (attorneys, judges, mediators, court staff and others): Family Bridge verifies identity and professional role. Parents are not asked for consent: under our Terms, Family Bridge decides each request, which must name a parent's email and a reason. Access covers one family and only the sections granted; every view is logged. Both parents are notified who the professional is, what they can see and until when, and can ask us to revoke it at info@familybridge.app.
- Subscriptions are paid through the App Store, Google Play or our web reseller; Family Bridge never receives full card details.
- Parents can delete their account and data at any time from the app. Family Bridge is designed for adults; children do not have accounts.

Free Pro access for your staff

So your team can try every feature, including PDF export, before sharing it with families, we offer complimentary Pro for Family Court Services staff. Write to info@familybridge.app with how many people and their email addresses. Each person first creates a free account with that email (web, iPhone or Android); we then activate Pro on it and confirm by email. It never depends on recommending the app.
